ENROLLMENT CONDITIONS:

It is understood that Elements of Technical Boat Design or "Elements" consists of 8 lessons. The lesson assignments are to be completed by me and returned to the school, per school instructions. It is understood that I need a computer, reliable access to the Internet, and email in order to properly complete the coursework, and I agree I must log onto the Westlawn student forum at least once a week. The work submitted shall be for the purpose of fulfilling the prescribed course requirements. The school will grade and return my lesson assignments to me. I will pay postage on all material I send to the school, and the school will pay postage on all lesson work returned to me.

It is understood that the school will be closed for U.S. national holidays; for a two-week summer break and for a two-week winter break; and that for several days during the year, faculty may be engaged in giving presentations and seminars at other schools, at conferences, and at boat shows.

It is understood that I cannot submit a succeeding lesson assignment until I have passed the previous lesson assignment with a grade of 75% or better, and that—if I fail to achieve a passing grade on the final lesson/exam in a module or course after five submissions of this lesson—the school will record this as failing the module or course and my enrollment will be terminated.

It is understood that for payment of my tuition fees, the school will furnish me the Elements of Technical Boat Design study guides and Westlawn text books, and instructor services consisting of lesson-assignment grading and instruction by mail or email should I need it to properly complete a lesson. (Note: Some material may contain the old course name "Yacht Design Lite.")

I agree to follow instructions to the best of my ability, to apply myself consistently and conscientiously, and to personally complete all Elements lesson assignments within six months from the enrollment date, at which time this contract, with the exception of the student's obligation for payments, if not completed, will terminate. However, a six month time extension will be granted, at no additional charge, for the purpose of completing the Elements of Technical Boat Design assignments. This free time extension does not alter the termination date of this contract, including the school's obligation for issuing refunds. Any additional time extensions, granted after the free extension, will be subject to an additional agreement.

If a third party has paid some or all of my tuition, I agree the school may send copies of my records to that third party.

I understand that acceptance of transfer of credit for Westlawn Institute courses to another institution is solely based on the policies of the receiving institution.

I have signed the enclosed student code of conduct and agree to abide by it, and I understand that the school has the right to suspend or terminate my enrollment for unethical conduct.

Tuition Discounts Available For Westlawn Courses

Corporate Multiple-Enrollment Discounts:

A company or organization that enrolls 3 or more people in any Westlawn course, within a 12-month period, will receive a 10% discount off the tuition for each course. If tuition is paid in full upon enrollment, the discount applies to the initial payment. If tuition is paid on the monthly-payment plan, the discount is applied to the final payment or payments.

Details:

For example, if only two students from a company enroll in Westlawn courses initially, then these enrollments will be charged full price. If—later within the same 12-month period—a third student enrolls from the same company, then the discount will be applied retroactively to the first two enrollments as well as to the third enrollment. Either a refund check or credit-card credit will be issued (if the initial enrollments were paid in full) or (if on the monthly payment plan) the discount will be applied to the final payment(s). Additional enrollments within the 12-month period continue to receive the discount.

These discounts cannot be applied retroactively through to a preceding 12-month period; however, the 12-month period is continuous. For example if two students enroll on January 12, 2011 and a third enrolls on December 17, 2011 all three would then be eligible for the discount. If another two students enroll on November 9, 2011, they too will be eligible for the discount, as the December 17, 2011 enrollment also makes 3 enrollments within a 12-month period.

ABYC-Member Discounts:

ABYC members (at levels above Individual Membership) receive either 5% or 10% discounts on all Westlawn courses. The amount of the discount is determined by the level of ABYC membership.

Contact ABYC membership, Judith Ramsey (jramsey@abycinc.org), Tel: 410-990-4460, ext. 102) to determine the ABYC discount your membership level entitles you to.

Details:

For example, a large corporation with a high-level ABYC membership, would qualify for multiple 10% discounts for several employees, while a standard Business Member would qualify for a single 5% percent discount in each year.

If tuition is paid in full upon enrollment, the discount applies with the initial payment. If paid on the monthly-payment plan, the discount is applied to the final payment(s).

Combined Multiple-Enrollment Corporate Discounts and ABYC-Member Discounts – 15%

Should an ABYC-member company qualify for multiple 10% tuition discounts, they can obtain a further 5% discount if they qualify for the Corporate Multiple-Enrollment Discounts above for a total discount of 15% for each course, for qualifying companies.
